

Additional information

There is no technical meeting for the competitors. You can get all the information on the official website www.therockljubljana.com or on the info sheet competitors will receive either at the registration point prior to the competition or at the info point in the EXTREM tent at the venue in Ljubljana.

Competitors who qualify for the semifinal and final will compete in t-shirts provided by the organiser. The competition will not be filmed so no complaints will be possible after the competition is over and the results are final. The organizing committee will ensure fair judging by providing experienced judges with valid licences who will be overseen by the head judge experienced in judging international competitions.

The boulder problems for the semifinal and final will be set prior to the event on an open stage so we urge the competitors to honor the Fairplay and not observe the boulder problems or take photos before the competition.

The finalists will win financial prizes which are set in advance. In the event of a tie the prizes for both spots are added together and equally divided between the two competitors (e.g. if two people are tied in second place, the prizes for second and third place are added together and split equally).
